Family Anxiously Awaits Report in Court Room Until the Twelve Tired Jurors Are Ordered to Be Locked in Conference Room for Night

NEW YORK April 11—Deliberation of 31 hours by the Thaw jury has failed to result in a verdict. At 10 o'clock tonight the jury was ordered locked up for a second night at the criminal building. The fact that they had not been able to agree after devoting so much time to a study and session of the case has given rise to the belief that the trial will end in a disagreement and the whole affair will have to be gone over again.

VICTORY FOR GOVERNMENT

Motions to Quash the Indictments Against Santa Fe Denied.

LOS ANGELES, April 11.—Motions to quash the indictments for rebating returned against the Santa Fe railroad by the federal grand jury February 9 were denied by Judge Wellborn in the federal court today. The motion to quash the indictments against John L. Schirm and the Grand Canon Lime and Coal company of Arizona, to whom it is alleged, the rebates were given, were also denied. This is a distinct victory for the government attorneys for the railroad having the motion extended pleas in support of their motion.

Follow the crowd and go to the Elks big military minstrels tonight or to the matinee this afternoon.

WICHITA, Kan., April 11.—N. J. Morrison, president of the Fairmount college in this city, died this morning of pneumonia. The deceased was born in New Hampshire, near the old home of Daniel Webster, 79 years ago.

In Curing Old, Chronic Cases of

RHEUMATISM

Patients Given Up as Incurable

Speedily Restored to Health by

Munyon's 3 X Rheumatism Remedy

I want every rheumatic to throw away all medicines, all liniments, all plasters and try MUNYON'S 3 X RHEUMATISM CURE. No matter what your doctor may say, no matter what your druggist may say, no matter how bigoted or prejudiced you may be against all advertised remedies, go at once to your druggist and get a bottle of the 3 X RHEUMATISM CURE. Price $1.00. He will get it for you if he has none in stock. There are 100 doses in a bottle, and as one lady says: "Every dose is worth more than a diamond of the same size." A few doses will take away all aches and pains, and a cure generally effected before one bottle is used.

Remember, this remedy contains no salicylic acid, no opium, cocaine, morphine or other harmful drugs. It is put up under the guarantee of the Pure Food and Drugs Act, but my guarantee I consider the best. Try the remedy, and if you are not satisfied, bring the empty bottle to me and I will refund your money.

No room for doubting, no room for skeptics, no excuse whatever why you should not get well of Rheumatism.

If you have any other ailment, remember that we put up a separate remedy for each disease. We have no "cure-alls." Our Cold Cure cures the cold. Our Cough Cure is worth more than all the cough syrups, all the oils, all the balsams and cough cures that have ever been made. You can prove this statement by the investment of 25 cents.

My Kidney Cure, I believe, has saved more lives and cured more chronic cases of bladder and kidney ailment than any known remedy. Money back whenever it fails.

My Dyspepsia and Stomach Remedy enables one to eat a good, square meal and digest it.

My Constipation Ointment gives a natural movement in from two to three minutes, and is rapidly taking the place of all cathartics and weakening nostrums.

My Headache Cure stops all headaches in from 3 to 10 minutes, and is a good heart and stomach tonic.

All persons suffering with Piles I most earnestly ask to try my pile ointment. It stops all itching and pain instantly. Money back if it fails to cure and cure quickly.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

COLD WEATHER AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The baseball season was opened here most successfully, notwithstanding the cold weather. The New York team defeated Washington in a well-played game, 3 to 2, the remarkable fielding of Keeler, Conroy and Elberfeld keeping the locals from getting runners over the plate at critical times. Both Hughes and Orth were hit fairly hard, the batting of LaPorte being a feature of the contest. Score:

New York	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	3	9	0

Hughes and Blankenship; Orth and Kleinow.

MULLIN PITCHES GOOD BALL.

DETROIT, April 11.—With the thermometer at 40 degrees and Umpire Sheridan working in a heavy overcoat, Mullin pitched a remarkable opening game today, holding Cleveland down to three infield hits and a shutout, 2 to 0. Four base running cost Cleveland its one chance to score. Cobb did some great work in run making for the locals. Score:

Cleveland	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	3

Mullin and Schmidt; Lieberhardt and Clarke.

FOURTEEN INNING GAME.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—Boston defeated Philadelphia in the opening game of the season after a 14-inning session. With the score 3 to 2 in the ninth inning and two out, Murphy fumbled a grounder and let two runs in. The local team tied the score in its half. Score:

Boston	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	4	8

Coombs and Schreck; Young, Tannehill and Criger.

CHICAGO LOSES FIRST GAME.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—St. Louis defeated the champion Chicago this afternoon in the opening game of the American league season, 2 to 0, in a game played in mid-season form, despite the coldest, threatening weather. St. Louis made eight hits off Altrock and only five, Holding behind him kept the score as low as it was. Howell pitched in fine form and was also given good support. Score:

Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	1

Howell and Stephens; Altrock and Sullivan.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

MOB CAUSES FORFEIT OF GAME.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The first game of the season between the New York and Philadelphia National league teams was forfeited to Philadelphia, 9 to 0. For some unexplained reason, there were no police at the Polo grounds today, and the crowd surged on the field during the second half of the eighth inning. The players were unable to continue, but Umpire Klem instead of immediately calling the game and giving it to Philadelphia, waited until fifteen minutes had expired.

A roundsman and three patrolmen meanwhile came on the grounds, but they were unable to do anything with the unruly mob, some of the members of which amused themselves by throwing bottles, glasses and cushions in all directions. The roundsman told Roger Bresnahan of the local club that he had orders not to interfere with the crowd, and the demonstration turned into a good-natured jollification. Soon Umpire Klem announced that he had forfeited the game to Philadelphia.

The score was 9 to 0 in favor of the visitors. Score:

Philadelphia	1	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	2	f	6	1

McGinnity, Ames and Bresnahan; Corridon and Jacklitsch.

CHICAGO WINS EASILY.

CHICAGO, April 11. Nearly 10,000 persons braved the cold weather to witness the National league opening here today. Mayor Dunne was present and "Cap" Anson tossed the first ball, after having presented the local players with umbrellas, gifts from members of the board of trade. The champions won easily. Overall was a puzzle to the visitors until the last inning, when an error and two singles gave St. Louis one run. Score:

St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	1	4	2

Overall and Moran; Fremme, McGlynn and Marshall.

ERRORS ARE OVERCOME.

CINCINNATI, April 11.—Cincinnati won the opening game of the season in the presence of about 10,000 spectators. With the Pittsburgs one run ahead in the ninth, the locals went in and captured the game, scoring two tallies on McLean's double, a sacrifice, two bases on balls and Ganzel's single to right. Errors by the locals were responsible for two of Pittsburg's runs. Score:

Ewing and Schlei, Leifield, Gibson and Phelps.

GAME POSTPONED, WET GROUNDS.

BOSTON, April 11.—The Boston-Brooklyn game, the first of the season to be played on the local grounds, was postponed because of wet grounds.

GOOD BUSINESS GUARANTEED

Statement of Secretary Taft Produces General Satisfaction—American Control Indefinite.

HAVANA, April 11.—Excepting among the English colony, where some disappointment is guardedly expressed regarding Secretary Taft's statement issued last evening, there is every sign of satisfaction at his remarks. The Englishmen say the secretary's statement guarantees good business for only a little over a year, and then it will be necessary to retrench owing to the uncertainty about the new government. It is plainly evident that English interests anticipated a statement insuring a greater degree of permanent American control. Spanish commercial interests are pleased because they consider Secretary Taft's statement tantamount to an assurance of American control for several years.

American commercial and banking interests are more optimistic than the English. The Americans declare Mr. Taft's words mean at least one year of continuous business, during which time political passions probably will die out. They believe the Cubans, recognizing the certainty of American intervention if they do not keep the peace, will make a strong endeavor to do so.

One thing responsible for lack of enthusiasm on the part of the English residents is the question whether or not Cuba shall be obliged to pay for the damage done property during the last revolution.

MURDERER WANTS TO HANG

Hunted Man Asks to Be Returned to Jail and Death.

LOS ANGELES, April 11.—A man about 45 years of age, travel stained and weary, claiming to be George W. Bundrick, appeared in the town of Downey, Cal., near here today and surrendered himself into the custody of John Edmundson, asserting that he had killed John Schroeder in Rains, Ga., in 1902. He said that he had been arrested in Georgia, tried, convicted and sentenced to hang, but had escaped from jail at night at Americus by overpowering his guards. He said he was tired of hiding and being pursued over the country and wanted to be taken back and hanged for his crime.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 11.—George D. Bundrick, who surrendered in Los Angeles today, together with his brother Wayland John Schroeder and his wife, who were returning to their home from Cordell at night, Schroeder was killed and his wife seriously wounded. After two trials George Bundrick was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. He was taken to the Americus jail for safe keeping. In November, 1904, he and a man named Parker sawed their ways out of jail.

to in the summing up speeches of either Mr. Delmas or District Attorney Jerome.

From the manner in which the jurors wished to go over the evidence in all its details it was surmised that a verdict, if reached at all, would be predicated entirely on the evidence and not on the "unwritten law."

Justice Fitzgerald spent the entire evening in his chambers awaiting the pleasure of the jurors.

Attorney Peabody was asked if Harry K. Thaw would make any statement. When Mr. Peabody referred the matter to Thaw, he wrote as follows:

"It is a great satisfaction that all my family continue well. I regret that so many officials and others have so much extra work."

As the deputy sheriff took Thaw away, he said:

"Another night. Well, I suppose I've got to make the best of it."

MRS. VON CLAUSSEN SLIGHTED

Claims to Have Been Shamefully Treated at the Hands of Roosevelt Administration.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Mrs. Ida Von Clausen, who has been here several days endeavoring to see President Roosevelt regarding her controversy with the American minister to Sweden, Mr. Graves, growing out of Mr. Graves' refusal to present her to the royal court at Stockholm, left for New York tonight. Before her departure she gave out a statement in which she said she had "No chance of redress at the hands of President Roosevelt or the state department," and that she would "pursue the issue to the end."

Her statement criticises President Roosevelt for denying her an audience, asks if that was a "square deal," says she has been shamefully treated by the Roosevelt administration, and says that the reopening of the case by the state department, while a moral victory for her, "is intended to deceive me into inaction."

REV. W. H. MEARS DEPOSED

Minister Discovered in Tenderloin District Said to Have Violated Ordination Vow.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Rev. W. Howard Mears, curate of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, who was arrested by the police at a house in the tenderloin district March 12, where he had gone in the company of a negro woman, was today deposed from the ministry by Bishop Greer, following a report of a committee of inquiry appointed to investigate the conduct of the preacher. The committee reported that the curate had violated his sixth ordination vow, which requires a clergyman, "as far as in him lies, to make himself a wholesome example and pattern to the flock of Christ."

Mr. Mears, while asserting that he was not actuated by any wrong motive in visiting the house in the tenderloin, and that his presence there was with a view of making sociological investigations, accepted the committee's finding, declared in writing his renunciation of the ministry and forwarded his resignation to Bishop Greer, who then deposed him.

The magistrate before whom Mears was arraigned following his arrest, accepted his explanation of his presence in the tenderloin and he was discharged.

HENRIETTA CROSMAN

Henrietta Crosman, who will be at the Opera house on next Thursday, is fortunate in her play this season. She has "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy," a comedy in which she made a tremendous New York hit at the Bijou theater, and was a distinct London success last season at the Duke of York's theater, packing the theater for months. No sooner had the merit of this play been disclosed by its London success, than American managers hastened to bid for the rights for this country, only to discover they had been forestalled by Maurice Campbell. Henrietta Crosman's manager, Mr. Campbell secured the American rights from the author, Ernest Denny, before the play had a London production. It was a lucky and far-sighted move, for it provides Miss Crosman with an exceptionally clever play, and has added to her triumphs the most brilliant in the list. "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy" she has made the greatest hit of her career, which means a sweeping one when account is taken of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," "Mistress Nell" and other achievements which have established her as the foremost comedienne on the English speaking stage.

ROSELLE KNOTT IN "ALICE-SIT-BY-THE-FIRE"

Three times has Ernest Shipman, general manager of Sweely, Shipman and company, endeavored to arrange for Roselle Knott to interpret Ellen Terry's great English success, "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," which will be at the Opera house tomorrow evening.

On the occasion of Miss Barrymore's illness last year telegrams were exchanged offering Miss Knott the continuance of the role. Miss Knott was then starring in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and declined, as she did not wish to change in the middle of her season.

At the opening of the present season Mr. Shipman was under contract to present Roselle Knott in "The Duchess of Devonshire," opening in October. At that time he offered Mrs. Dodemus a bonus of $500 to postpone the presentation of her new play until April, but the offer was declined. Sweely, Shipman & Co. have now carried out the terms of their contract with Mrs. Dodemus and now control the right to her play.

All difficulties have been overcome and Miss Knott, with a full English company, will interpret the last of the Barrie comedies for the remainder of the season.

Follow the crowd and go to the Elks big military minstrels tonight or to the matinee this afternoon.

BISBEE SITUATION UNCHANGED

Over Seven Hundred Men Out on Strike.—Companies Stand Firm Against Closed District.

BISBEE, Ariz., April 11.—The second day of strike called by the local union of the Western Federation of Miners developed but little change in the situation. The number of men who are on strike or who have left the camp on account of the strike is reliably placed at 715. Of this number 409 are from the Copper Queen mines and the remainder distributed between the Calumet and Arizona, Superior and Pittsburg, and Shattuck and Dean mines. All the shafts continue to work two shifts, claiming that 75 per cent of the men employed in the district were out. This would mean more than three thousand. The timekeepers for the several companies report that less than 600 men have asked for their time on account of the strike and have been paid off.

Yesterday 84 miners left the district by train and were followed today by one hundred additional men. There is no disposition on the part of the companies to import outside labor. They assert that they will be able to continue operations with at least fifty per cent of their employes and are firm in the announcement that under no conditions will they accede to the proposition to make the Warren district a closed union camp. Union pickets are attempting to persuade miners to go out but their efforts have not been very successful. Organizer Hawkins today received a telegram from Acting Secretary Kirwan of the federation pledging support of the entire federation to the Bisbee local.

There is no disorder. The sheriff and the captain of the regiment are on the ground but their services have not been required.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 11.—In an interview in the Tucson Citizen today, Walter Douglas, general manager of the Copper Queen mine, stated that the trouble at Bisbee is the work of the I. W. W., who sent to repeat in Bisbee the recent campaign in Nevada. Douglas stated that if the strike assumes serious proportions his company will shut down indefinitely if need be, but that he will not recognize the union. He will arrive in Bisbee today.

Did President Say Moyer and Haywood Are Undesirable Citizens?

CHICAGO, April 11.—The Chicago Federation of Labor is endeavoring to place President Roosevelt on record regarding his reported opinion of Moyer and Haywood, officials of the Western Federation of Miners. E. N. Nagles, secretary of the local labor body, today sent the president the following telegram:

"The newspapers report you as saying that Moyer and Haywood are undesirable citizens. In view of the fact that these men will soon be put on trial for their lives, we believe their chances for a 'square deal' would be considerably lessened if the reported statement is true. We therefore ask you for correct information on this subject, believing a man is innocent until he is proven guilty."

CHICAGO, April 11.—Taking of testimony in the case of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, charged with rebating, was completed today.

E. S. Hollands, chief clerk in the general freight office of the Chicago and Alton Railway company, whose testimony was in the nature of rebuttal on the part of the government, was the final witness.

His testimony differed from that of Edgar Bogardus, traffic manager of the Standard Oil company, who testified for the defense. The point of difference was as to whether Bogardus had been informed by Hollands that the six-cent oil rate had been filed with the interstate commerce commission.

SATISFIED LEGISLATORS.

OF THE large party of Congressmen who went to Panama with the Speaker or about the same time, nearly all have now been heard from, and there is a unanimity in their remarks which is as pleasing as it is surprising. To a great extent, one is apt to find in a place what one takes to it, and some of the members—some of the Democrats especially, went there prepared to find that the stories of wondrous sanitation and large amounts of work accomplished were fairy tales—to find that the American work has been no better than the French; that large amounts of money have been wasted; that there has been graft in the commissariat; that there has been inefficiency in the organization, and delay in actually getting to work and making the dirt fly; that at the present rate of progress it will take many years to finish the job, and so on.

Curiously enough, not a single one of the Congressmen who have spoken or written since they came home has said any such thing. They were one and all impressed with the wonderful changes in sanitary conditions brought about under the administration of Colonel Gorgas and all agreeably surprised at the extent and character of the work already accomplished. It appears that Wallace laid out good plans, Stevens made a splendid start at carrying them out, and Goethals will go right on in the same line. One of the Democrats who came back confessed that he had gone there prejudiced, and prepared to find everything that was bad; but he owned, honest man, that he had been completely converted.

Nothing could show the honest and admiring character of the work that has been done on the isthmus better than an incident like this. The American people are assured now that the work is begun, and has already progressed far, on the right lines, and that it will be finished within a reasonable time. They are assured, too, that under the present superintendence there will be no halt, and no alteration of plans or duplication of work; for while Major Goethals may perhaps drop out, the army goes on forever, and the loss of no one man will be such a deadlock as may not be compelled.

CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS.

BLESSINGS be upon the heads of the constitution-makers of Colorado—for one thing at least. They ordained that the Legislature should sit only ninety days once in two years.

We are moved to this outburst by reading the news from other states—New York and Wisconsin in particular. In the former state they are apparently just beginning the session. Of the measures which Governor Hughes urged upon them in his inaugural message not one has yet become a law. In fact, he is having a whole lot harder time with them than Governor Bucheel had with the Senate of the late Sixteenth. Thus far he has hesitated to use the usual executive weapons in dealing with them. He may be driven to it—was there ever an executive who did not use his patronage to obtain votes for something he wanted?

In Wisconsin it is worse yet, for the resignation of Senator Spooner has devolved upon this Legislature the task of choosing his successor. They are just getting about it. There is no Republican caucus candidate, and the chances are that a deadlock will last a long time. The first vote was taken yesterday, and it indicates a long contest. The leading candidates are Governor Davidson and Isaac Stephenson. Of course, while the voting is going on the Legislature can't do any ordinary business, so after the senatorship matter is settled, their labors will even then not be over. In that state, as well as in New York, it looks as if the session might last till well into the summer.

In those states a legislator is paid a fixed yearly salary—in New York $1,500, for collection service—so that it makes no difference to his pay whether the session lasts ninety days or a hundred and ninety. In this state the pay is per diem, so there had to be a limit put, or they would sit the whole two years. Possibly one reason why the late General Assembly enacted so many new laws was that they felt that their time was short and that they had to hurry.

AFTER THE FAKIRS.

IT IS good to see the way the government is endeavoring to protect the public from the promoters of fake mining schemes. Nine arrests have now been made in this state, nearly all of them in Denver. Of course the state capital is the natural rendezvous for such gentry. It is said they have been reaping a golden harvest by sending their prospectus far and wide through the mails, accompanied by faked-up reports of alleged engineers on unworked properties.

Of course, the hold the federal government gets is through the use of the mails by the rascals for the obtaining of money under false pretenses. That is a federal offense. They could be indicted under state law, we suppose, but this is one of those instances referred to by Mr. Root in his famous speech in which the states are not zealous in upholding their rights and are leaving the correction of wrongs to the general government. Of course there is a good reason for it in this case, for the swindled parties could probably recover nothing if they should sue, and as most of them live far away, one could hardly expect them to come here and lay informations, and spend the money necessary to press a trial, merely for the sake of abstract justice.

The mining business in Colorado for the past few years has been singularly and pleasantly free from fakirs. We are obliged to Uncle Sam for weeding out the few of this kind of gentry that have drifted in here.

Royalty in Europe is taking little jaunts. King Edward has gone over to visit Alfonso, and has been made a captain-general in the Spanish army. Victorio Emanuele has gone to Greece to see George. And they say that pretty soon poor Nicolas will start on a journey, the end of which can not be foreseen.

Two baseball teams are arranged. Mike Donlin will not join his mates, going on to Japan as his wife's traveling assistant manager on the company she is acting with. Joe Hel Chen has been married a year and a half.

After that speech, Colonel Temple Graves, Mr. Roosevelt may well pray to be delivered from his friends.

MUSICAL RECRUDESCENCE IN OREGON.

From the Oregon Astorian.

With an extraordinary outlay of about $175 in gold coin Dell Scully cornered the jewsharp market here yesterday, buying the last 200 of those instruments known to be in existence. These he distributed broadcast among the youngsters of the town and among the idle loafers of mature age, so that the future twang of the hideous twang was heard on all corners last night to the discomfiture of all the cats and dogs in Astoria's hinterland.

A "BEAT" ON THE HANGING.

From the Harriman (Tenn.) Herald.

Shorty Smith, who was hung in Knoxville a few weeks ago, for just week commuted to a life sentence in the penitentiary by Governor Cox. The hanging came about in this way: The day for execution was set for Wednesday and we went to press that afternoon, when we decided under date of the day following (Thursday) that Shorty Smith was hanged in Knoxville yesterday. It was a fortunate thing for Shorty that what he said did not settle it. This was our first hanging and hope it will be the last.

BEN-HUR ON A MISSOURI PIKE.

From the Neborne (Mo.) Democrat.

The team became frightened near St. John's church, in the west end, and came down Fourth street with a speed of the wind. The occupants of the buggy were cool and self-possessed; there was no crying out and no attempt to jump from the buggy. With the grim determination of Spartans they held firmly to the lines, seemingly with the view of keeping the horses in the street, which was, with the exception of crossings, as smooth as glass. Hundreds of spectators stood spellbound and expectant, watching the unequal struggle. Not a man dared move; any attempt to head off the maddened horses meant death to one or both occupants; the slightest swerve to right or left meant contact with huge telephone or electric light poles or some building, and in the end eternal oblivion. For more than half a mile Fourth street is as straight as a string, and the question with the waiting watchers was, Will they be able to make the turn at the end of the street? Women grew hysterical, and the eyes of strong men were blinded with tears. The suspense was terrible. Suddenly an uttered exclamation ("They're stopping") sent a thrill of gladness hurrying down the line. From mouth to mouth the glad tidings were sent to the watching crowds. Soon it was apparent that the horses were under control, and many a prayer of thankfulness found its way to Him who made men the master of brute creation! ! !

From the Washington Star.

MODERN WISDOM AND WORDS.

From the New York World.

Oklahoma's newly drawn constitution is a document of 109,000 words. And yet the fathers of the republic managed to write a good deal of constitutional wisdom that endures into a document one-twentieth of that length.

HE'S STILL ON THE LID.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

"The fat is in the fire," says the Washington Star, commenting upon the Forraker-Taft fracas in Ohio. Let us hope that this does not refer directly to the secretary of war. The achievements of that statesman entitle him to a more complimentary appellation, no matter how the tape may contend that he is the prototype of Sir John Falstaff.

DE PROFUNDIS.

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Give Chicago a chance! The chance to redeem herself, to be no longer a horrible example for other cities, to be no longer an unprotected wilderness of vice, open to the attack of criminal gangs, but a city of security, attractive to visitors, a pride to its own residents—the city Chicago is destined to be. Let that destiny be fulfilled now, not by the next generation.

THE VENEER OF CIVILIZATION.

From the Kansas City Journal.

Truly, "scratch a Russian and you will find a Tartar" may be given the wider translation: "Scratch a civilized man and you will find a savage." Hundreds of centuries of the gospel of the Prince of Peace have rolled over men's heads and millions of books teach the stupidity, cruelty and uselessness of war, but drinkful still loves to fight. Man's savage passions, like the tiger's claws in their velvety jackets, are sheathed under the conventions of modern society, but, like the king of the jungle, upon the slightest provocation they are ready to leap and slay.

LEADING TO CUBAN ANNEXATION.

From the Springfield Republican.

Reports coming from Cuba indicate that Secretary Taft will find an exceedingly difficult situation to deal with when he reaches that island. William R. Curtis writes from there to the Chicago Record-Herald that the United States government is becoming exceedingly unpopular with both the property-owning classes and the masses of the Cubans who pay no taxes. The latter are dissatisfied because the American authority continues to remain, and the former are dissatisfied because it will not decide to abide there permanently. The property owners are said to be practically unanimous in favor of some form of American control, with the great majority of them wanting complete annexation. The native non-taxpaying classes, who largely outnumber the others, want an independent Cuba and will certainly carry the election which, according to the present program, is to be delayed by the withdrawal of Governor Magoon and his provisional government. It is the observation of the Chicago correspondent that the restored native government will leak. It cares nothing for the wishes of its subjects, and in anticipation of this and the withdrawal of the American authority people in favor of annexation are keeping quiet—a species of terrorism existing which results in jeaning Governor Magoon and his official family much isolated and alone.

Such being the situation it would seem to be obvious that the election of another native and independent government will bring about a repetition of the Pulaski experience. Whether the new native government be strong and liberal or otherwise, the property classes will renew their leaning upon the United States and will find no difficulty in creating a situation which would invite a repeated intervention on the part of Uncle Sam.

THE MAN WHO LENDS A HAND.

From the Hartford Courant.

He is a great deal more than the proverbial "helper of the ordinary Christian." When we say that we are not forgetting the good cardinal down at Baltimore, the saints and well-learned bishops, the eminent and scholarly preachers. All due honor to every one of them. But Dr. Hale is in a class by himself. We shall not call the roll of his writings—his benefactions to the American bookshelf and everything besides many and thankworthy they are. For more than sixty years he has gone about doing good, as did the Master, who is he loves so well and serves so faithfully. During the more than fifty years the Boston Pulpit—its words and influence—has gone out continuously to the country's limits and beyond, everywhere and all the time upbuilding the kingdom of God among men. Throughout the United States, in Europe, Asia, Africa and the islands of the sea, the world's one helping arm has been his brother's keeper, and in his beautiful spirit, at works of practical piety and mercy, in personal humility and humanity have an older saint been not.

It's a strange thing to think of on his eighty-fifth birthday that some nothing of his fellow-citizens in these United States, if they gave street level to the logic of their business, would by feeling acute anxiety about the fortune of Edward Everett Hale's soul. We wonder whether enough actual sufferers from dipsomania on that subject could be found to cover the corner to start a reformed drunkard club.

From the New York Post.

Some are born bars, some achieve the art of lying, and some confer with Roosevelt.

Governor Johnson of Minnesota and Governor Stuart of Pennsylvania both signed two-cent-fare bills within twenty-four hours. One state has more than 125 population to the square mile, the other less than twenty-five. The question is, Should Pennsylvania pay less or Minnesota more?

The new Delaware law forbidding Christmas Saving clubs dealers to charge for their services will not prevent them from "demonstrating" prosperity after the approved method.

MICROBES AND THEIR REMEDY

fality of the disease by one-half in those inoculated who became infected.

Wizard of the Pipette.

Most of his remarkable discoveries have been made by his adaptation of glass blowing to suit his ideas and technique. In this country he might almost be named the Wizard of the Pipette, pipettes being the ingenious forms of glass tubes he has devised for his work.

The technique he has developed for the work I shall try to describe to you is ingenious, elaborate and difficult, and yet the most veritable tyro can get good results.

Wright tells the story of a gentleman [illegible] to review the clinic, who asked if he might learn his technique. "Certainly," said Wright. "How long can you spend here?" "Well," replied the visiting doctor, "not long. I'm afraid my wife is waiting outside in a cab."

Wright and his coworker, Douglas, a few years ago, found the connecting link to the ideas of Metchnikoff's I have already spoken of. Remember, Metchnikoff stuck to his theory for fifteen years, but could not prove it.

They found that the white blood corpuscles do devour germs, provided these germs were first acted on by the blood juices.

Adding white blood cells to an emulsion of germs in salt solution, and examining under the microscope, they found the white blood cells and germs lying alongside each other, but no germs inside the white blood cells.

If they, however, took some blood juice, added this to the germs and then added the white blood cells, examination under the microscope revealed the white blood cells to be crowded full with germs.

They concluded, therefore, that there must be present a substance in the blood juices which first acted on bacteria, and prepared them for the appetite of the white blood cells. This substance they named "opsonin," from the Latin opsono, meaning: I prepare food for table. The leucocytes or white blood cells have often been spoken of as scavengers, and so they are though unlike most scavengers, they must have their prey cooked for them.

A natural result of this discovery was that they could find out how many germs the white blood cells of a healthy man could devour after action of his blood juices, and compare this with the number a sick man could prepare for his white blood cells. This table they called the opsonic index, and you will in future to be as familiar with the term "opsonic index" as you are today with such medical expressions as uric acid, albumin, and bicarbonate carbon.

Wright and Douglas next naturally tried to find out how they could increase the opsonins in sick people, and thereby cause the white blood cells to take up more germs, and so bring about a cure of their diseases.

How Microbes Behave.

I will briefly explain here differences in behaviors of different microbes.

Many of you have had your blood tested for typhoid, and you have had explained to you by your physicians that if a drop of blood of a normal man is added to a drop of water in which typhoid germs are swimming around enjoying life like tadpoles, these germs take no notice of the addition. But should there be added a drop of blood of a man developing typhoid, those same microbes will stop their sport and immediately bunch together in a mass. This bunching or clumping is due to the development in the patient attacked by typhoid of protective substances which cause this clumping in order that the white blood cells can get hold of them wholesale. To a very slight extent, our blood will cause tubercle bacilli also to clump together when we are attacked, but unfortunately we can develop no such protective substance against any other germ that attacks us.

It is necessary, of course, for these clumps to be opsonized; that is to say, acted on by the blood juices, before the white blood cells will eat them, even though they are bunched. Will, the single exception of diphtheria, we who are in good health possess in our blood juices opsonins capable of acting on all disease causing germs.

As I told you early in this address, diphtheria lets loose a toxin, which is its weapon of offense. Against this we have an anti-toxin, inoculation of which neutralizes the poison, but does not destroy the germ. It simply prevents it, damaging the body, and the germ, finding its residence uncomfortable, drops off the throat ready to attack some one else. We have no method in our bodies of destroying the diphtheria germ, and we know patients who have been attacked can carry around the living germs sometimes for months.

Against all other germs those causing boils, pneumonia, tuberculosis, typhoid, catarrh, gonorrhoea, in fact, the majority of disease-causing microbes, we have practically and absolutely to depend on the opsonins in our blood juices.

You will grasp the fact that by such ability to measure these opsonins a diagnosis of many diseases can now be made just as the clumping power of the blood aids the diagnosis of typhoid.

Blood tests along these lines have rapidly developed, and, apart from diagnosis, they are useful as measures of immunity.

For Mothers to Consider.

By their means it has already been shown that a breast-fed infant has much more resistance to microbic diseases than a bottle-fed.

It will probably not be long before this fact is added to the twelve rules given out a month to young mothers in Germany, for the first four of which, urging the mother to nurse her child, appears the statement resulting from investigation, that women who had not nursed their children were more frequently afflicted with mammary cancer than those who had.

The value of the opsonic index will at once be understood by regard to cases needing operative interference. At the great Ormond street hospital in London, where many children are operated on for cleft palates, some the introduction of the method of examination surgeons have refused to operate when the children were found below normal in their resistance to the organisms, but when found below were inoculated with necessary vaccines, and their resistance increased, and as a result the operations have been every one successful, and there has been no infection of the wounds.

The possibility of curing an infection by material obtained directly from the attacking germ is a remarkable fact, but none the less true. But remember the process of inoculating a vaccine so prepared is fundamentally different from the treatment of diphtheria by anti-toxin.

Years ago Pasteur widened the concept of the term "vaccine" by applying it to material obtained from germs and capable of producing immunity.

Wright has even gone further, and defines a vaccine as: "Any chemical substance which, when introduced into the body, causes there an elaboration of protective substances."

The practical importance of the discovery of opsonins consists in their relation to this question of the treatment of infection.

You will readily understand that if you can measure the protective substances in the blood before and after treatment, you have reduced the handling of the microbic diseases to a mathematical basis of exactitude, and you at once remove the charges of empiricism which have heretofore been justly applied.

Consequently, the therapeutic value of this new vaccine treatment, as claimed by Wright, is easy of demonstration.

Remarkable Cures Effected.

It is an apparent paradox that an individual may suffer from boils for months or years, and yet the hypodermic injection of a small quantity of a vaccine of the very germ causing these boils will not only produce a cure, but will also prevent the occurrence of other boils which would have developed.

The amount of opsonin which in such patients has been found below normal, is greatly increased by this inoculation, and hence the cure.

One would expect absorption of vaccine would take place, but these germs, as in so many other diseases, have securely planted themselves, and actually one might say need undermining to overthrow their military tactics, and even then it is sometimes difficult to get enough blood juices to permeate their strongholds. Here we have for the first time a complete understanding of the efficacy of the time-honored poultice, and the reasons of its curative effect by helping more blood juices containing opsonins to get at the source of infection.

I will now proceed to lay before you in part the position of tuberculosis in today's medical minds.

By means of the opsonic index, it is possible to make a diagnosis of tuberculosis infection with almost complete accuracy.

By means of this blood examination, the children of the tuberculous can be watched and guarded against the disease. The reason why tuberculosis seems to follow diseases like measles, influenza and diabetes is now clearly understood. Such patients are found with reduced opsonins, and so incomplete protection against tubercle germs, and appropriate steps can be taken to increase these opsonins, and save them from tubercle invasion.

So much for prevention. As for cure, Wright has accomplished the most remarkable results. I saw cases in his clinic where actually some feet of tuberculosis attacking the skin and tissues beneath had been cured, and others fast curing. Cases of tuberculous glands with histories of ten or more operations over many years, were cured in large numbers and without exception.

Tuberculosis Cured.

Regarding pulmonary tuberculosis, Wright's clinic showed many cured cases, in spite of the fact that he is unwilling to treat them. These I saw usually had had local tuberculosis elsewhere in the body, and hence their presence in the clinic.

I must briefly tell you why Wright objects to these cases. If one has an incurable foot and one walks on it, he is apt to throw continually into his circulation poisons from this ulceration. So it is in pulmonary tuberculosis. Wright's clinic is an ambulatorium. He is allowed no beds in the hospital, and therefore he has steadfastly refused to treat cases he can not control. However, he has his methods adopted in most of the sanatoria in England, and they are used when patients can be kept quiet and controlled.

As stated already, different diseases are treated by him with vaccines made from the patient's own germs. In tuberculosis, however, owing to the difficulty in growing the germs from each patient, Wright has used Koch's pure tuberculin, which is nothing but an emulsion of ground dead tubercle bacilli. By the guidance of the opsonic index and the employment of this have the marvelous cures been accomplished in local tuberculosis, and also in the first stages of pulmonary tuberculosis. The treatment by it of further advanced pulmonary tuberculosis needs some explanation.

Wright discovered he could infect tuberculin without result in cases of skin tuberculosis if other pus organisms were present. So he prepared and used Koch's tuberculin from these pus organisms, and then his tuberculin inoculations bore fruit.

So the case is in pulmonary tuberculosis, after the early stage, many virulent of germs get into the area of disease and help to the downfall of the victim. Many patients may get well even now, but we are mostly familiar here in Colorado with those cases who, having reached a certain point of chronic invalidism, never get further, and who by the least infection awaken their centers of disease.

When the tuberculin vaccine of Koch was first introduced, some good was effected, but an enormous amount of harm caused the medical world to discontinue its use. The reason of the great harm is now clear, he explained. It was given too often, and in too large quantities.

I would remind you here of the history of calomel giving. Wright has found by watching the opsonic index that the amount for best results is a one-thousandth part of what was first used, and then only every ten days, instead of twice a day, as was formerly the case.

One Patient's Experience.

A patient often seen at his clinic is an excellent illustration of this.

A fellow servant pierced her ear for an earring with a needle she had held in her mouth. A few weeks later this practitioner of barbaric customs died of consumption, and the woman with the pierced ear developed a little pimple, which gradually spread, and a tuberculous process developed, which spread from her ear over her face, neck, shoulder and down the arm.

When Koch's tuberculin was brought out, two inoculations a day were given her of what is now known as a large amount, and the result was most disastrous, the arm sloughing almost off, necessitating amputation.

For fifteen years this woman visited the hospitals to have abscesses opened and her large area of disease dressed, but received no more more special treatment, and the disease steadily progressed.

Wright found her with a resistance to tubercle, as measured by her opsonic index, only one-half that of a normal person. By watching her index and inoculating with infinitesimal doses, this woman is now completely cured.

I found in Europe the greatest admiration for Trudeau, and I will here quote from a paper of his, published last fall. In writing of the use of vaccine, he states: "I have become convinced that any danger there may be of aggravating the patient's condition by tuberculin treatment lies principally, if not wholly, in its faulty, or reckless administration."

Danger in Vaccine Use.

And again—"I would not urge any physician who prizes his peace of mind to embark on the treatment of tuberculosis by this method, unless he is prepared to begin with minute doses and increase with the utmost caution. He will also soon be made to feel the disapproval prejudice which exists both in the profession and laity against tuberculin treatment, and he must be prepared to meet criticism and blame for all the exacerbations and complications which naturally develop in the course of the disease, and which are invariable attributed, not to the disease, but to the treatment, while coincidences will occur occasionally which make his position indefensible, and which he must be prepared to face as best he can. I have seen a tuberculous meningitis, hemoptysis (lung hemorrhage) and uncontrollable fever all ending fatally, cure in patients who were about to take tuberculin, but for some reason or other did not take it."

Again: "I nevertheless have formed the impression that the use of tuberculin brings about somewhat better results than can be obtained by sanatorium methods alone."

In spite of the greatest obstacles and criticism, Trudeau has persisted in the use of tubercle vaccine in selected cases for years, and the evidence accumulating from Wright's work proves how correct he has been.

Similar conclusions, you will perceive, have been arrived at on each side of the Atlantic by Wright by exact blood measurements, and by Trudeau by close clinical observation.

Let us return to the opsonic index in tubercle, and we learn that in cases of climatic and sanatorium treatment, that unless a complete cure has been effected, the index is invariably low, and the resistance of these patients is such that they can never possibly be completely cured.

Behring's Cure.

You will probably want to be informed on Behring's work, and of the cure he has promised to announce.

His so-called cure is nothing more than a vaccine very similar to what I have described. It is said to result that one who has done so much by his discoveries of anti-toxins, should be himself the victim of an incurable disease decomposition stands, and almost sudden that his recent work should of necessity be discredited, because the manner of announcement aroused the suspicion that brain disease, which so often accompanies locomotor ataxia, is making headway.

My own vision may be distorted, but it looks to me as if the medicine men of the future will wield the inoculating syringe and look back upon the present generation, with its pill boxes and ointment pots, as we now regard those practitioners of the middle ages, from whom, after all, we are not so very far removed, with their applications of the remains of frogs, fish, etc.

Whatever may be the final results of these inoculation ideas of Wright's, there is no doubt today that the originator already stands on a level with such men as Pasteur and Jenner. The opinions of some of his best contemporaries are that his methods should be adopted in the first line of treatment instead of as a last resort, after the defensive mechanisms have fallen into desuetude, lethargy, or are worn out.

PASSES OBSOLETE BILL

FAILS IN SECOND ATTEMPT AT SAME STORE.

Boy Refuses to Take Unknown Man's Bogus Money—Claimed to Be Railroad Employe.

After passing an obsolete $10 bill, dated 1856, and drawn on the Merchants and Planters bank of Georgia, on a 10-year-old girl in charge of the West Side grocery, 632 West Huerfano street, Tuesday afternoon, an unknown man tried the same trick the following afternoon, but was foiled by the young brother, a boy of 7 years of age. No trace of the man has been found, despite the attempts of the boy to follow him.

The attempt was made by a tall, slim, well-dressed man, who introduced himself as L. E. Smith, a railroad man, and introduced by his wife and children. The stranger then evidently knew that Miss Ida Smith and her brother Clifford are frequently left in charge and presented the old bank note at a time when the girl was alone. He purchased 10 cents worth of merchandise and was given $9.87 in change.

The note was described to the sheriff, and when a similar bill was handed to the Hibbard drug by the next afternoon he identified it as a duplicate of the other one, stolen from the cash. The man left the store, claiming, as did the other, to be from Georgia, and to be a railroad man. He was of light build, having no small change. The boy followed him out of the store, east on Huerfano, and to the Rio Grande tracks, where the stranger turned toward the south and disappeared.

The only description given of the man that he wore working clothes, is about 35 years old and of medium height and build.

ARTHUR PECK SERIOUSLY ILL

Little Hope Is Entertained for Recovery of Well-Known Colorado Springs Pioneer.

Arthur Peck, father of Secretary F. G. Peck of the Portland Gold Mining company and a member of the original Fountain colony which settled in this region in the early '70s, is critically ill at his residence, 618 North Nevada avenue. Mr. Peck has been sick for some time and owing to his advanced age, his recovery is doubtful. He is more than 70 years old.

Mr. Peck came to Colorado Springs in June, 1872. He has resided here almost continuously ever since, and has been identified with almost every progressive movement in this city during the last 35 years. He is generally well known by the pioneers of this section.

STUDY AMERICAN RAILROADS

Prominent Foreigners Gathering Information for Their Countrymen Who Are Interested.

J. A. C. Suringar of Haarlem, Holland, and G. M. Ledebaer of Freedhatt, England, are guests at the Alamo in the course of a tour of America, during which they are inspecting railroads in the interests of Dutch and English bankers who are deeply interested in American railway stocks.

"It may not be generally known in America, but there are many millions of Dutch money invested in the railroads of this country," said Mr. Suringar last night. "Years ago the Dutch were the first railway builders in America, and their holdings have gradually increased so that now they form one of the chief sources of income for many of our millionaires and capitalists of lesser note. Lately there has been quite a feeling of uneasiness among these investors, and my mission to this country is only one of many similar ones. There are possibly hundreds of agents of our bankers and stock brokers in this country at the present time traveling over the American roads and gathering information for their employers on the different lines in which they are interested.

"The worst feature I see in the railway business here is the lack of attention to schedule time. In the old country the trains are always on time.

"This is too big a country for me, and I can not get used to it. I do not feel at home here as I do among the crowded quarters of the old world. One can travel across Holland from north to south in five hours and from east to west in two by slower trains than you have in this country, and yet we have 6,500,000 people."

Mr. Suringar and his companion will spend several days here and will then take in Chicago and Buffalo before sailing from New York on their return trip.

Be a live one, get in with the bunch this afternoon and evening at the Elks Military Minstrels.

GRIFFIN BADLY HURT

NOSE BROKEN AND FACE AND HEAD SEVERELY CUT.

Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church in Hospital as Result of Mysterious Accident.

As a result of an accident late Wednesday night, the Rev. S. W. Griffin, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, is in the Deaconess hospital, suffering with a broken nose and a badly cut face and head.

Dr. Griffin was for some time on Colorado avenue, but he was found on Monroe street, near the Rio Grande tracks, by the Manitou street car. He was carried home by the conductor and motorman of the car, and later moved to the hospital and an operation was performed on his nose. When he recovered consciousness, the patient was unable to account for the accident, beyond remembering that he was on his way home in a southbound Manitou car. It is supposed that he fell from the car.

The Rev. Mr. Griffin will be confined in the hospital for several days.

M. S. GOODALE SENT TO PRISON

Convicted of Assaulting His Niece, a Colorado City Girl—A Bitter Legal Fight.

M. S. Goodale, who was arrested here last fall on a statutory charge preferred by his sister, Mrs. Sarah Brown, of Colorado City, in behalf of her 14-year-old daughter, has been sentenced in a Kansas City, Mo., court, to seven years in the state penitentiary.

The case was most unusual and was underlaid with strong human interest features. Goodale took his 14-year-old niece from Colorado City to visit her aunt in St. Louis. On her return here some weeks later the child told her mother that Goodale had assaulted her in a Kansas City hotel, threatening to kill her if she retold the circumstances.

Since the crime was committed in Missouri, it was impossible to swear out a warrant for Goodale's arrest in this city, and Mrs. Brown, who is a widow, mortgaged her home, the result of years of savings, in order to secure funds to go to Kansas City and file proceedings against her brother.

The warrant was sworn out and Goodale was later arrested in Colorado City. His aged mother spent all her savings in a bitter legal fight to prevent her son's extradition to Missouri. The requisition papers, which were faulty, were sent back to Missouri for correction. Meanwhile the defendant made strenuous efforts to secure a writ of habeas corpus in the local district court. Before the case was decided, the corrected papers arrived and the writ was then denied.

The sheriff at Kansas City took the prisoner in charge and drove him about town until train time in a closed carriage to prevent possible service at the hands of Goodale's attorney, who was thought to be about to appeal to the supreme court. Had the proper proceedings been filed and notice served on the sheriff for possession of the defendant, he would have been obliged to give up the prisoner until a final settlement of the case.

STOCKS CLOSE STEADY

MARKET LARGELY IN PROFESSIONAL HANDS.

Operations Are Conducted in a More Recessive Manner, and Extended to Greater Lengths.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The stock market was still largely in professional hands today, but operations were conducted in a more recessive manner and were extended to greater lengths. Constant shifting of position still indicated a very uncertain frame of mind on the part of the professionals. Much of the day's session was given up to what looked like testing operations without success in altering the prevailing tendency of the market. The trading sank into extreme dullness, at times, under the discouraging influence of these failures, and then yielded decidedly.

Such strength as the market showed was most in evidence in the early part of the day. Part of this was in response to a rise in London markets as a result of the reduction in the official discount rates of the bank of England from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent. The early results were furthered by the bull party in the trading by manipulative devices. The substantial effect of the English bank rate reduction was in fact small. The previous course of the money market gave ample warning of the action and gave opportunity for discounting it in the securities market. In some quarters an expectation had been expressed that the reduction would be a full one per cent instead of one-half per cent. The weekly statement of the bank of England fully explained the action of the governors, the bullion holdings showing a large accretion and the loans a considerable contraction. Not only this but a heavy decline in government deposits and a corresponding increase in other deposits showed the transfer by government expenditures of large sums to the money market.

The private rate of discount continued to decline also as it did in Paris, the bank of France showing a substantial contraction of loans, although the increase in gold holdings was but small. Notwithstanding this general and continued yielding of money rates all over the world, the stock market begins to reflect misgivings over its sufficiency to meet the large waiting demands. These include large volumes of authorized but unissued securities, or, where the sale of these is impracticable, probable further note issues. Signs of a movement of currency back to the interior also gave warning of the large requirements of the continued activity in trade. The effect of this demand alternately is a slackening in the demands of trade.

This is a possibility looked upon with less equanimity than for a time, when its possible relaxing effect in the money market was given first consideration in Wall Street. The dilemma is thus presented of giant money markets owing to continued demands of a circulation from active trade and the consequent reduction in earning power on share capital.

Another specific influence in the day's market was the report from Washington of the decision of the interstate commerce commission to advise proceedings against the Harriman railroad system as a combination in restraint of trade within the meaning of the law.

The London copper market showed a disposition to break again and this served to redawken some uneasiness over the market position of that metal, notwithstanding the asseverations of the great producers as to the soundness of the position. Iron trade authorities also testified to the undiminished strength of that trade. U. S. Steel was comparatively firm but this did not sustain the general market. The closing tone was steady and at some recovery from the lowest.

Bonds were dull and irregular. Total sales par value $1,430,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call. Furnished by Otis & Hough, Bankers and Brokers.

Why Loan Your Money at 6% on Real Estate When You Can Get 7% by Investing in Bonds Secured by First Mortgage on Real Estate?

The San Luis Valley Irrigation, Land and Power Company

is giving as a bonus with each $500 bond, 1,200 shares of the capital stock of the company and selling the bond for 85c on the dollar. This means that for $425 you can get a $500 bond and 1,200 shares of stock.

This company is building a large reservoir in the San Luis Valley in the state of Colorado, and this reservoir will be sufficient to irrigate about 30,000 acres of land.

The company estimates, at a low basis, income as follows:

Owns about 3,200 acres of land at $30 an acre	$95,000
Water to be sold for 30,000 acres of land at $25	750,000
Resources	$845,000
The property is mortgaged for	300,000
Balance	$545,000

The company is capitalized for 1,000,000 shares and, figuring the net assets as above, this makes each share of stock worth 54c, or, the stock and bond that can now be bought for $425 should be worth as follows:

Par value bond	$500
1,200 shares stock at 54c	648
Total	$1,148

The company has expended about $190,000 in the construction of this reservoir, and the bonds have been subscribed by persons familiar with this proposition, and includes some of the best financial people in the city.

The company is giving the bondholders ⅔ of the capital stock of the company as a bonus, and, therefore, the bondholders control the company as well as hold a first mortgage on the property. For full particulars, call on

CONFLICTING REPORTS

WHEAT MARKET IS KEPT IN NERVOUS STATE.

Sentiment Is Bearish for Most Part. Close Is Steady.—Corn Trading Dull.—Oats at High Point.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The conflicting influences kept the wheat market in a nervous state. Early in the session sentiment was quite bearish because of the weather bureau report which predicted scattered rains throughout the southwest tonight, including portions of Kansas and Missouri. The market was further weakened by an estimate on the amount of wheat which will be exported from Argentina this week, the total shipments being placed at nearly 1,000,000 bushels, more than those of last week. Local and outside longs sold freely on these advices.

The market then rallied sharply on urgent demand by commission houses, which was prompted by the large number of damage reports received from the southwest. The continued dry weather in Nebraska and other parts of the winter wheat belt attracted almost as much attention as did the greening reports. Late in the day the market again weakened with the distant deliveries showing the greatest declines. The close was fairly steady. May wheat opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 77⅝c to 77⅞c, sold off to 77⅛c, and then advanced to 78⅛c.

Trading in the corn pit was dull and prices fluctuated within a narrow range. At the start slight firmness was manifested owing to firm cables and a bulge in oats, but later the market eased off on profit taking. Cash houses were the principal buyers. The close was easy. May corn opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 47⅛c to 47⅜c, sold off to 46⅞c, and closed at 46⅞@47c.

The price of oats today touched a new, high record mark for the season, May delivery selling at 44@44⅛c. May oats opened unchanged at 43½c, advanced to 44@44⅛c, and closed at 43⅞c.

Provisions were weak on profit taking by local and outside longs. At the close May pork was off 50c at $16.52½. Lard was 15@17½c lower at $8.67½@8.70. Ribs were 15c off at $8.52½.

Pay Rock Company Now Doing Large Amount of Development Work. Operations in Oro Claim.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 11.—The Pay Rock Mining and Leasing company, composed of Denver and Colorado Springs men, operating on the Oro claim on Ironclad hill, is doing a large amount of development work. It was only recently that this company found a six-inch streak of ore at a depth of 100 feet which showed values as high as nine ounces in gold to the ton. The company is now driving 125 feet below to try to cut the same vein, where it is believed that the vein will found to be considerably wider and still maintain good values.

There are three shafts on the Oro claim, all of them having been sunk during the past couple of years with the exception of the orginal discovery shaft. The operators are confident that within a few months they will have another good shipping proposition on Ironclad hill. The prospects are certainly extremely good.

HOBO PROSPECTS FLATTERING

Ore Giving Returns of $25 Has Been Discovered. Robert Burns Reaches Desired Depth.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 11.—The Hobo Leasing company, working on the Hobo claim on Guyot hill, continues to sink the shaft. At a depth of 95 feet the shaft came down on ore which, under test shipments, gave returns of from $20 to $25 in gold to the ton.

This company set out with the intention of sinking to a depth of 350 or 400 feet, and this work is now being done. With ore known to be on the property the prospects are flattering. This company proposes to do considerable lateral work after the shaft has been completed.

The Robert Burns Leasing company, operating on the Robert Burns claim on the same hill, has nearly reached the depth decided on originally. This company will also do a large amount of dead work.

VALUES IN SMALL STREAKS

Average Grade in Pike's Peak and Porcupine Claim Is $35—Operating at 300-Foot Depth.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 11.—There are at the present time four sets of sublessees operating successfully on the Pike's Peak and Porcupine claims, of the Stratton estate, all of which is under lease to George Balderston. All of the lessees are working at a depth of 300 feet and each one is getting out some ore. Occasionally the grade runs as high as three ounces, but the general average is around $30 and $35 in gold to the ton. While the veins are of fair dimension, the values are found in numerous small streaks, which give assay returns clear to the pictures.

In the early days of the camp both the Pike's Peak and the Porcupine claims produced a good many thousands of dollars of very rich ore. With greater depth it is the belief of many that the same remarkable ore shoots found nearer the surface could be recovered. Nothing is being done along these lines at the present time, however.
